Make up artist Elinor Barash's tips for Purim makeup: First, make sure the skin is totally clean, with no cream either – it will make the makeup smear. Better use black eye liner gel and not a pencil. It stays for longer. To fill in spaces, use eye shadows in powder, which are usually full of pigment and glitter. By the way, do not put glitter on children's eyes. Glue them on the skin with a water spritzer. Do not put lipstick on skin. Have fun!
