TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

- Language and gender as a cultural and social problem
- Initial studies on language and gender
- Is gender a grammatical or semantic issue?
- Symbolization and language organization
- Gender markedness
  - Gender markedness in natural languages
  - Gender markedness in constructed languages
- Grammatical gender in Hebrew
  - Feminine markedness and derivation
  - Grammatical gender of animate and inanimate nouns
  - Grammatical gender of numerals
- Semantic impact on gender
  - Language and gender representation
- Gender and brain representation
- Gender and the speech community
- Language and gender research
- Linguistic changes in gender

CHAPTER 2: LANGUAGE AND GENDER IN CLASSICAL HEBREW

- General remarks
- Gender in the Bible
  - Men and women representation in biblical terms
  - Women's status in the Bible
  - Women and leadership in the Bible
  - Gender proverbs in the Bible
  - Grammatical gender in Biblical Hebrew
    - Gender shifting of pronouns and inflected prepositions
    - Gender shifting of verbs, participles and copulas
    - Gender shifting and special cases of nouns
    - Differences in forms of address
- Gender in Mishnaic times
  - Grammatical gender in Mishnaic Hebrew
  - Women's status in Mishnaic period
  - Mishnaic stories about women

Gender in the Middle Ages
Grammatical gender in Medieval Hebrew
Women's status in medieval times

CHAPTER 3: LANGUAGE, GENDER AND RELIGION
Men and women in Judaism
Women and the study of religious texts
Expectation for women to remain silent
Jewish women's status over the course of time
Linguistic terms for religious functions
Jewish ceremonies
Birth ceremonies and prayers
Bar Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah ceremonies
The wedding ceremony
Special religious texts for women
Religious texts written by women
Feminist changes in Judaism
Language changes in liturgical texts
Blessing for not being a woman?
Adding the names of the matriarchs
Alternative names for God
Mentioning women in ceremonies

CHAPTER 4: GENDER IN MODERN LITERATURE AND LANGUAGE
The first women writers in Hebrew
Special female genres and style
Women's special literature?
Women writers in Israel
Hebrew revitalization and gender
Father tongue or mother tongue?
Women writers entering the canon
Gendered language in literature
Social reasons for linguistic differences
Gender differentiations in Hebrew
Gender in the numbers system
Gender in animal names
Androcentric generics
Gender saliency and discrepancy

Gender perceptions in the language
Gender and metaphoric uniqueness
Stereotypes reflected in the language
Popular gendered expressions

CHAPTER 5: GENDER CHANGES IN THE LANGUAGE
Language change or social change?
Different ways of linguistic changes
Applying linguistic changes
Changes in constructed languages
Grammatical changes in Hebrew
Changes in forms of address
Morphological changes
Lexical and semantic changes
Changes in professional and occupational names
Masculine use for female occupations
Masculine fixed expressions in Hebrew
Gender use in proper names
Gender changes in proper names
Switching linguistic gender
Language, gender and sexuality
Hebrew terms in homosexuality

CHAPTER 6: SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS
The problem of language and gender
The gender problem in Hebrew
Hebrew gender across history
Gender representation in Judaism
Gender in modern language and literature
Gender changes in Modern Hebrew
Conclusions

REFERENCES

SUBJECTS INDEX

AUTHORS INDEX